Title of project:

Simple Banking System

Description:

I chose to develop simple banking system, which includes transfer, taking out loan and other various banking functions – including signing in and log-in.

Only verified user can log into banking program and using CRUD, I can get input from users. If you don't have banking account, you can create bank account and make money transfer or deposit.

I probably will need of 3,4 classes. One could be main class, which will be my main website, and other will be banking account detail class.
